

Mental Health of Boys Masterclass with Natasha Devon MBE and Martin Daubney

Tuesday 4th December 2018
Sandy Park, Exeter | 13:00 – 16:30

-
- 12:30 Registration, Refreshments and Exhibition
- 13:00 Welcome and introduction
Anthony Boulton, Professional Lead SEMH team, Babcock LDP
- 13:10 What is Gender and Do Boys and Young Men Have Specific Wellbeing Needs?
Natasha Devon MBE, Writer, Campaigner, Pundit and Martin Daubney, Award-winning Editor, Journalist, and Broadcaster and Co-Founder of The Men and Boys Coalition
- Martin will discuss his background and a little about the work of the Men & Boys Coalition, followed by Natasha who will discuss what is meant by gender, understanding what we mean when we say 'masculinity' and what it looks like in a school environment.*
- 13:45 What Makes Men Happy?
Martin Daubney, Award-winning Editor, Journalist, and Broadcaster and Co-Founder of The Men and Boys Coalition
- Detailing the Harry's masculinity report - What are the myths about masculinity in 2018? What are the key challenges to men and boys' wellbeing? What should educators know?*
- 14:40 Refreshment, Networking and Exhibition
- 15:10 How Can We Change the School and Social Environment to Meet the Needs of Boys and Young Men?
Natasha Devon MBE, Writer, Campaigner, Pundit
- Suicide and addiction are statistically the most common mental health problems in men. Drawing on her research with young people, Natasha will examine why this is and what strategies Schools can put in place to stop boys and young men from flying under the radar - including monitoring our language and creating opportunities for boys and young men to feel emotionally supported.*
- 16:10 Men and Boys Manifesto
Martin Daubney, Award-winning Editor, Journalist, and Broadcaster and Co-Founder of The Men and Boys Coalition
- 16:30 Close of Masterclass

